About Fábrica

Fábrica is raw, precise and physical. A ritual of repetition, intensity and transformation. In Fábrica, choreographer Guilherme Miotto aims to reshape the stage into a workshop of rhythm and movement. With three dancers (+2 acrobatic performers) and two live percussionists, we build a world where movement and sound are inseparable, where every action resonates and every rhythm is felt through in the body. With percussion as the beating heart of Fábrica, as oxygen for connection, bodies become instruments and instruments become extensions of the performers.

About our Participation Projects

Corpo Máquina Society develops participation projects which are focused on bringing a variety of groups and individuals together through movement and performance. Within these projects we approach the body as a base to connect people, regardless of age and background.
